Experience the small-town charm of southern Wisconsin at The Old Feed Mill, featured numerous times in Midwest Living and their cookbook, Taste of the Midwest, as well as on the Food Network. When you visit The Old Feed Mill, you'll enjoy:

- Excellent food, flexible menu, convenient location and handicap accessibility
- Fascinating history—Owners Dan & Nancy Viste love sharing The Old Feed Mill story
- Magnificently restored historic mill, full of antiques and curiosities
- An operating stone mill that still makes custom flour, a reminder of the building's past
- Range of tour options, from a step-on tour to an in-depth tour of the historic mill
- Top-notch staff who have been hosting motorcoach groups for many years

For groups of 20 or more, The Old Feed Mill will provide one complimentary meal, and for groups of 40 or more, two complimentary meals.

Motorcoach Parking Available.
